

Admire from Afar

Apples and Carrots Kill Wild Horses

Wild horses can only digest natural beach grasses. Apples, carrots or other snacks will cause colic, resulting in painful death.

With roughly only 100 wild horses left on the northern beaches, their existence is highly threatened. Help them thrive. Please respect the horses. Never approach and resist the temptation to feed.

Find out more at: www.corollawildhorses.org

